KVARNER
Diversity is beautiful

CROATIA
Full of life

Dear guests!

In this guide you will find basic information on the Krk town area, things that may occupy your time and deals that might interest you.

The guide is designed as a complete source of brief information in order to draw your attention to the possibilities that you will further investigate, based on your habits.

Be well informed – then your stay in our town will surely be more comfortable!

The geographic position of the island of Krk together with its favourable traffic connection to the mainland could be seen as its primary advantages both as a tourist destination and as a home to its inhabitants. The island of Krk is the largest island in the Adriatic. It is located in the most western part of the Adriatic and at the same time is the closest to the mainland. Krk bridge, with a total length of 1430 metres, connects this island to the mainland thus making it easily accessible.

This bridge has been used for the last 40 years and during the first 20 registered a traffic total of 27.2 million vehicles. With the nearby islands of Rab, Lošinj and Cres, Krk is connected daily by a ferry service throughout the year. It is also possible to access the island by plane, with the airport being situated to the north of the island.
The town of Krk, located close to the very large bay on the south-eastern side, is the economic, administrative and cultural centre. Together with nearby villages located within the hinterland, the city has a surface area of 110 km^2. The town's hinterland is a tranquil and rural area where the original way of life from days gone by has been preserved. Recently, even these settlements have been involved with the tourist flow of the island with a rural farm holiday offer. Based on the 2011 census, there are 6243 inhabitants living in Krk. The entire area of the town of Krk, in particular the town itself, has been strongly involved with tourism and the service industry and has a rich cult-ural and historical heritage.

CULTURAL MONUMENTS

1 CITY WALLS

Various layers in the town walls encompassing the town completely, and preserved even today, were built between the Illyrian period and the fall of Venice. The first record of today's walls dates from the time before Christ. The last important extension to the walls occurred at the end of the 15th century.

2 KAŠTEL

The Frankopan fortress was built in the period between the 12th and 14th centuries, mentioned in the reports by the Venetian providore. The fortress has a number of purposes, such as protecting the town against attacks from the seaside, and the square rook serving as a courthouse. The height of the walls is 9m.

3 KAMPLIN

The name of the square is derived from the Latin word campus, meaning field. During Roman times, a training area was located here close to the thermaspas. The remnants of the temple columns at thesquare gives witness to a large building from Roman times.

4 ROOK ON THE SHORELINE

A six-sided rook with western and southern wall sections dating from the Middle Ages. Prince Nikola Frankopan had it constructed in 1407. This is recorded by the inscription and family emblem engraved into the Roman tombstone from the respective century and a presentation of the couple.

5 TOWN COUNCIL HALL

On the ground-floor of this rook structure from the 15th century, there city doors existed. The rook was constructed by the islanders without paid wages. Located on its eastern wall is the emblem of duke Augustin Barbaring. Under it is the clock with 24 fields first mentioned in 1538.

6 VELA PLACA SQUARE

This is the only town square preserving the characteristics of a square. It is first mentioned in 1263. The six-sided well on the square dates from the 16th century. Under the square is a valuable archaeological site, revealing otherwise, the oldest part of the town walls dating from the 4th to 3rd century B.C.

7 THE LARGE TOWN DOORS

Once the town became encompassed by walls, these doors became the main entrance to the town from the seaside, increasing so because they were originally positioned to the south, at the end of the decumano, as well as the square itself. They are mentioned in 1350.

8 THE SMALL DOORS

Originally, these were located in the walls of the bishop's court as the southern end of the street cardo. Here, due to southern gusts and an extension to the bishop's court to the west, they were relocated during the 14th century. In front of these doors there was a small mul-gate: an entry to the town for fishermen.

9 SPLENDIDDISSIMA

"Splendid Town of Krčan" is the inscription from the Antic tomb stone dating from the 9th century. A replica is found on the main town square Vela placa (square) and this is also the first written record of the existence of the town of Krk.

11 VOLSONIS

The first discovered town walls. The historical excavation is tied to the forum – the central section of the Roman municipium. The altar from the 1st century was found from the 'Venerina temple' collection, the first and only on the eastern Adriatic coast.

12 THE TEMPLE OF VENUS

Venus is the Roman goddess of love, beauty and marriage, born from the sea's foam, chosen by Paris. She was the most beautiful goddess of the whole Roman Pantheon. The number of Temples of Venus within the Roman Empire was significantly less when compared with temples built for other Roman gods at the Pantheon, as approval from the emperor's family itself needed to be granted before building could commence. This is the only temple dedicated to the goddess Venus to be found on the eastern side of the Adriatic and dates back to 1st century BC.

13 CATHEDRAL

Originally, the three apsidal Old Christian basilica (5th century) was raised on the remnants of the Roman baths. In the cathedral, on the northern side, there is a baptistery. Today, the three apsidal Roman cathedral (12th century) was segregated and extended a number of times. The internal section is 'supported' by 14 columns, and one from the northern row (closest to the altar) is the only one with very rare Eucharistic symbols, each side has two birds eating a fish.

14 BELL TOWER

The cathedral received a Gothic styled bell tower in the 16th century. In 1767, instead of the present acute top, a Baroque domed bell-tower was built with a wooden angel. Today, the angel is made of polyester dating to 1973.

17 THE CHURCH OF SAINT FRANCIS

A Gothic style from the 12th century. Today's sacristy was the church's primary section. The bell tower was built later, its upper section in the 18th century.

18 THE FRANCISCAN MONASTERY

The Franciscans are first mentioned in Krk in 1277. At first, the monastery was part of the northern town walls. The eastern wing was raised in 1910 as the minor seminary. Here, a picture of the Mother of God with the Child from the Renaissance painter Vittore Carpaccio is kept.

15 THE CHURCH OF ST. QUIRINUS

A precious example of Roman architecture from the 12th century. The three apsidal church was built from local white stone. Here, it is the only older two-storey church. It was once connected to the cathedral as its matroneum – an area where mass was attended by women. It was consecrated to St. Quirinus – the patron saint of the town of Krk. Today, it contains a valuable sacral collection – of course, more valuable is the exhibited altar piece from the 15th century showing motifs of Mary's crowning.

1 p.55 SAINT DONAT

A first-class monument of Croatian sacral architecture. It relates to chapel from the first-half of the 12th century, a quadrilateral layout. From its central rhombus area covered by a dome, there are three apses. Don't be surprised when standing before the exceptionally valuable Croatian sacral architecture heritage, a unique prototype. It is a world heritage site.

16 THE CHURCH OF THE MOTHER OF GOD OF HEALTH

A three apsidal Romantic church of the ex-Benedictine monastery from the 11th century. It was originally consecrated to St. Michael. When defending the town against cholera, in the 19th century, its title was changed. The bell tower on the western facade dates to the same period as the church.

2 p.59 SAINT GRYSOGONUS (SV. KRŠEVAN)

A monument with the highest value dating to the 11-12th centuries. Around the circular base with the dome there are three semi-circular apses with half-domes. it is located above Čavlena Cove.

The valuable sacral collection is represented in a unique multi-storey Romantic church. Exhibited are the pluteums (altar barriers) with cross motifs and cypresses, a wood statue of the Patron from the Gothic period, and of course, the most valuable being an altar piece from the 15th century which shows the motif of Mary's crowning.

The Frankopan Heritage Trail: "Krk Interpretation Centre"

The Frankopan Castle, situated on Kamplin Square, one of the historically most significant squares at the heart of Krk's old town, is today home to the Krk Interpretation Centre, a cultural and tourist point of interest of the Frankopan Heritage Trail.
At the castle, you will learn about the Frankopans' architectural heritage and you can also visit an interesting exhibition of medieval weapon replicas, as well as a small outdoor exhibition of archaeological artefacts. In addition to Liburnian cippi (tombstones from the 1st and the 2nd century), an inscription about the construction of a section of town walls from the 1st century, and another one dedicated to the patron saint of the 'most beautiful town of Krk' (splendidisimi Civitatis Curictarum) from the 3rd century also deserve to be mentioned here.

The Krk Frankopan Princes

The family tree of the great Frankopan family draws its origins from the Krk princes, and is mentioned in documents dating from the 12th century. The name of Frankopan is has been recorded by history since 1430.
The town of Krk very meticulously preserves the tradition of the patrician families who along with the Zrinski family, are proudly called the magnates of Croatian culture and history. They were great figures in political and economic terms, continually striving for Croatia's self-determination.

In this attempt they perished, and their family was wiped out. On the 30th April 1671, at 9:00am in the morning, they were punished and sentenced to death in front of the town armoury in Wiener Neustadt near Vienna. In a special burial ceremony, on the 30th April 1919, their posthumous remains were transferredto the grave behind the main altar of the Zagreb cathedral.

There they lie still today, available for pilgrimages and honouring by the Croatian people.

Krk was one of the strategic Frankopan towns which today has inherited a very well preserved Frankopan castle on Trg kamplin – an ideal natural scene and coulisse of summer cultural performances and the prince's court - the Krk residency of these families.

Worth visiting is the family chapel in the cathedral– a nice example of Gothic style. Besides these material heritages, Krk endeavours to preserve the memorial of the Frankopans by reviving the spirit of their times through various events that the town leads back to the Middle Ages, back to the Renaissance period where costumed prince and princess, the populace, pages and shooters… parade silently Romantic.

The ideal geographical location is an advantage that the island of Krk has well assessed in terms of tourism. We refer to the closeness of the mainland when twenty years ago a bridge was constructed linking Krk with the mainland, making it even more accessible.

Good transport links have made the island of Krk a favourite excursion destination, but also rich one-day excursions can be made form the island as well.

We most of all recommend an excursion to the Plitvica Lakes and Northern Velebit national parks. The real researcher amongst you will of course want to discover Rijeka - the centre of the Primorje-Gorski kotar County, and staying in Rijeka should include a mandatory visit to Opatija – the tourist 'Adriatic pearl'.

Interesting is the one-day visit to Istra, where we strongly recommend a stay in its central region rather than on the coast! Finally, the island of Krk is linked to the three islands Rab, Cres and Lošinj by a ferry line which may also become destinations for your one-day excursions. Don't miss out!

Once you've chosen quality accommodation based on your own criteria and gained at least a general impression of the town by getting to know its most important parts, everything is then ready for the start of your active vacation. This is what, Krk can offer:

PEDESTRIAN AND BICYCLE PATHS

■ BICYCLE RIDING

When riding a bike during the summer days, it is best to wake early and chose the morning freshness. You can chose for your route on asphalt roads and investigate the hinterland area of the town of Krk, which covering quite a large area, extends along the western area of the island. The degree to which this route is demanding, depends on how fit you are.

The road, covering twenty or so kilometres, will lead you along a tranquil area. If you want to add culture to this recreational event through culture, head for the Franciscan monastery at Glavotok, while a special experience is offered in searching the close chapel of St. Grysogonus (12th century), completely isolated in the middle of the forest. Having chosen this route, and should you physically be up to it, you can head for the ferry pier at Valbiska and travel to the neighbouring island of Cres. The climb ahead is not easy, but you will enjoy the natural scenes which will surely help you conquer the climb. Lovers of mountain biking can travel the same route along roads that are not asphalted. Nevertheless, no matter what route you decide to take, you will meet many bicycle enthusiasts along the way, waiving to each other as you go by. You'll surely like it!

CAMINO KRK

Camino Krk is just a little over 150-kilometre long circular route across the island, following the infrastructure of the existing hiking trails. It starts in the island's centre – the town of Krk, or to be precise at the Krk Cathedral, and ends at the Parish Church of St James the Apostle in the village of Kornić. The Krk route is divided into seven pilgrimage chapters or seven days needed to truly experience the island's historical, cultural and religious heritage woven into the unique natural and urban setting.

All pilgrims who complete the Camino Krk route will get the Pilgrim's Passport (Credencial del Peregrino), as well as the official pilgrimage certificate (Compostela). Stamps or credentials of the places (i.e. sights) on the Camino route can be collected along the way, from hiker-friendly stamp boxes.
For better orientation around the island, Camino Krk is marked by hundreds of distinctive blue and yellow signs, and there is also a map.

DIVING

The tranquillity below the sea around the town of Krk offers an unforgettable experience. Be polite and adhere to the rules! Seek out a local diver who will be your host and guide, don't dive on your own! For information on preparing for your diving excursion can contact the local diving club or the tourist agencies.
Here you will be informed of the diving locations and services by the guide, places for refilling tanks, how to obtain a diving permit, in brief, all the details necessary when preparing to dive. In regards to locations, you can choose between sunken ships or diving into the deep blue which will lead you along a series of vertical walls overgrown by sea fauna into which countless swarms of fish venture.

Before covering the beaches, we would like to make a commentary concerning the sea at the bathing grounds in the town of Krk. The sea is clean, very clean! In the town area of Dražica, there is a beach for dogs, a separate area where dogs can swim and seek relief from the summer heat.

The cleanliness of the sea at the beaches, nonetheless, is owed to the fact that the beaches are covered in shoal or are rocky with landscaped sunbathing areas. If you get the urge to go discovering and seek intimacy, and also know how to drive a boat, we have news for you. In the town port find out where the dinghies for hire are moored. Discuss the terms with the owner and head out. The shoreline directly close to the town is a real treasure of hidden, intimate shoal coves which at least for a day can become your private beach. This will be an experience just as though you brought back a souvenir from your annual holiday!

You cannot leave the Golden Island before you are sure that you have seen the trump cards that have given it its flattering name since the Roman times.

Allow yourself to be spoiled by this island like many who have come before you. Enjoy the luxurious taste of Kvarner fish, and the widely famous Kvarner shrimps.

We would also like to tell you that the island's lamb was already being served at the courts of the Roman emperors, and believe that this is sufficient recommendation. In the list of restaurants we have highlighted those places offering Krk lamb, so indulge yourself in this imperial experience.

You can taste the handmade pasta, which is a trademark of this island In almost all the restaurants - the delightful and very tasty šurlice, which production requires a lot of patience, and experience. Up until recently, this dish was only served on Sundays or on important feast days and events. Please take the time to find out why.

The Mariolina company is our local producer of delicious pasta. Here you can find šurlice as well as other interesting types of pasta.

Krk's prosciutto, which is protected by a designation of origin, can be found in numerous restaurants. It is mild and light, with its taste being reminiscent of butter.

Do not miss a visit to the House of Krk's prosciutto, where you will learn everything about the special characteristics of this delicacy, and of course where you will be able to taste a variety of dishes with Krk's prosciutto, as well as other local specialities.

Of course, we must not forget Krk's cheeses - either cow's milk, sheep's milk or the goat's milk ones. When you taste them you will feel all the richness of the flavour and aroma of medicinal herbs on which the animals pasture here on the island of Krk.

In addition to these dishes, we must not forget Krk's olive oil, which is among the most high quality Mediterranean oils. A true liquid gold and medicine! Complete your experience of the oil by visiting the Nono House of Olive Oil where you can taste various types of oil and see the small oil mill and of course, buy a bottle of these wonderful golden drops.

The island of Krk is also renowned for its unique wine and we recommend you try it with all of the above mentioned dishes. Its breeziness will simply delight you. Learn to pronounce correctly žlahtina, that name you will surely repeat many times and enjoy it.
Of sweet dishes, try definitely original sweets made of dried figs, cottage cheese, and we also recommend the fried delicacies Fritule (fried doughnuts) and kroštule. You also have to taste imbriagon or „drunk cookie", a fragrant dry biscuit being prepared at eve of holidays only in the city of Krk. These are sweets that used to be tasted on this island. But definitely taste also their modern version - irresistible cake Krčka kneginja (the Krk princess) that will win you over already at the first tasting.

a gift from Krk

A GIFT FROM KRK – AN ORIGINAL KRK SOUVENIR

A gift from Krk is the name of a souvenir that best reflects the town's artistic, cultural or historical legacy, while at the same time presenting its tangible, intangible and natural heritage.

Original Krk souvenirs are selected in a contest announced by the City of Krk Tourist Board once a year. The strict award criteria include: originality, authenticity, integrity, aesthetics, design and craftsmanship quality, and the use of eco-friendly materials and techniques typical of the Krk area. A souvenir that meets these and other contest criteria, as decided by the selection committee, is awarded A gift from Krk label.

If you desire a truly authentic item to remind you of your stay, Krk souvenirs include an impressive array of artwork, decorative and practical objects and clothes, homemade culinary products, cosmetics, and valuable and attractive publications.

Souvenirs can be bought by directly contacting their authors, producers or publishers, whose contact details can be found in the online catalogue available on the following link: www.tz-krk.hr/en/gift

PRPRIVATE ACCOMODATION – TOURIST AGENCIES

The greatest ace for Krk as a tourist destination and town of history and culture, is surely its inhabitants. The simple, non-attrusive, polite and helpful, their family homes surround the historical town centre allowing them to provide accommodation in rooms and apartments. If you don't want to leave the atmosphere of a home even during your annual holiday, then you will probably opt for private accommodation, and Krk here too has something to offer. It will be best if you consult one of the tourist agencies in the town who do business with those renting out private accommodation.

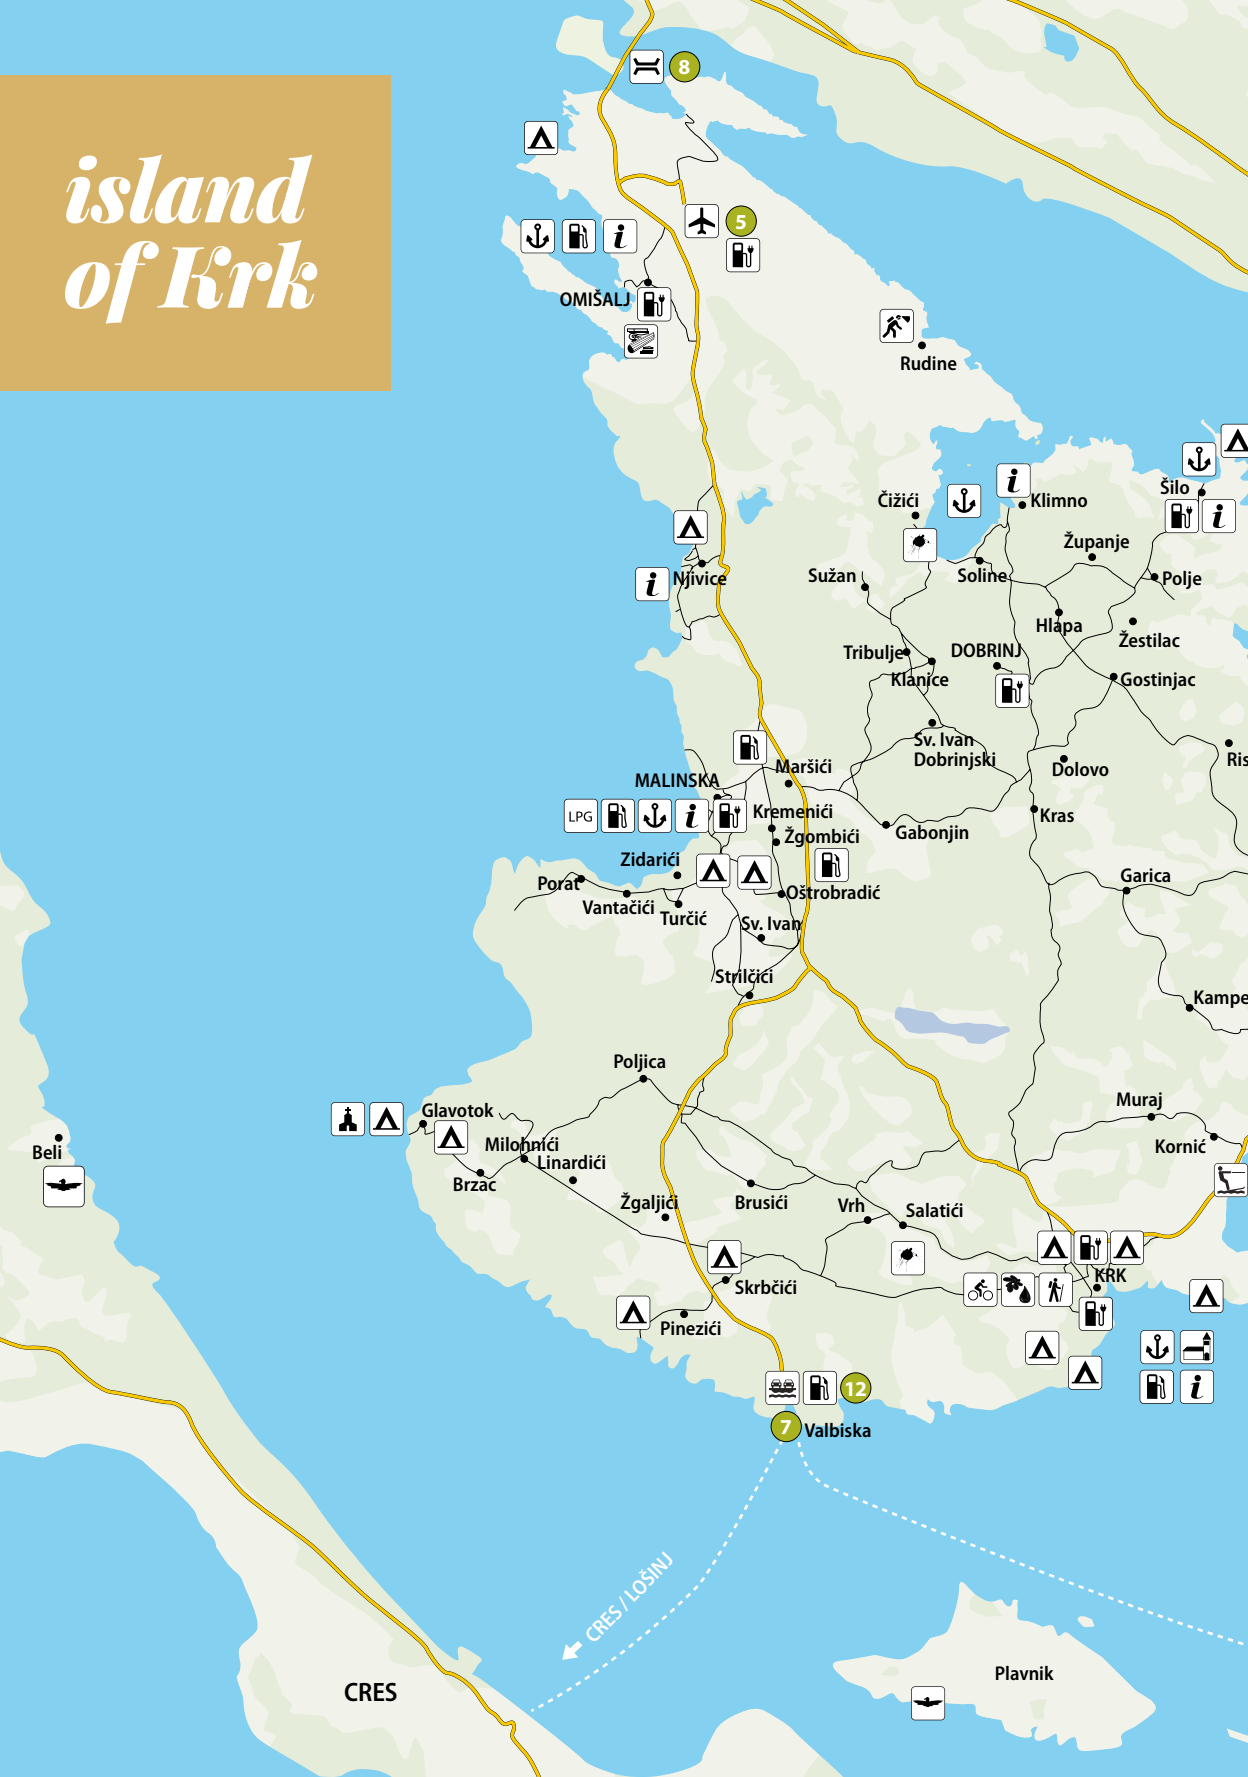
island of Krk



The island of Krk was listed in the TOP 100 destinations according to sustainable tourism criteria. The selection process was conducted by National Geographic Traveller.

Kornić, Muraj and Lakmartin

Once you're well familiar with the center itself, the town of Krk, plan the time you' ll spend getting to know the settlements around the town. If you decide to head east, after only eight kilometres you' ll be awaited by KORNIĆ, a village with two adjoining settlements - Muraj and Lakmartin.

What is most important to see in the area, you will see even before you enter the respective places. At the intersection where you will leave the main island roadway and head uphill, you will see an unusual building – 1 the church of St. Donat, a first-class sacral monument of Croatian architecture. However, it is possible that you' ll be attracted by the unusual dome-like building even without warning.It concerns a chapel from the first half of the 12th century, a quadrilateral area covered by a dome and three apses. Don't be surprised by its simplicity. You're standing in front of an exceptionally important Croatian heritage of sacral architecture, its original prototype. A world heritage site.

2 In Kornić itself, we direct you to inspect the ethnographic collection and visit the local church of Saint Jacob, built in the mid 19th century in a Baroque style. Should you continue on the road, you' ll enter Muraj, and then the last settlement in the area – Lakmartin. Here, visit the chapel of Mary's Annunciation (it is also called the chapel of Saint Anthony of Padova). At the beginning of the 18th century, this chapel was built by eleven families, nine of them donated the fields and forests, while he other families supplied the materials and built he chapel.

Take some more advice from us, rather than use a car for this trip, use a bike. Why? Find out for yourself!

LOCAL KORNIĆ ETHNOGRAPHICAL COLLECTION

4 The two-storey family house is equipped with antique furniture, utensils and tools reflects an athmosphere of "the way it was before".When you sightsee, keep in mind, this was not that long ago (only fifty or sixty years ago!) and that what you have seen was once modern and normal equipment for a family home.

Brzac, Glavotok, Milohnić and Linardić

This area is called Šotovento, and consists of a series of villages where tourism has still not penetrated or is only just beginning. You will pass through the picturesque villages of Lindarić, Milohnoć and Brzac. On the far north you will arrive at Glavotok, located on the very shoreline.
Allow yourself this place to fascinate you with its simplicity and nature. It is located directly close to the sea, and has completely preserved its uniqueness and traditional style of life. You can find accommodation in some of the private houses that offer accommodation in apartments or rooms. Or perhaps in a modern equipped camping site. Get to know the preserved domestic gourmet offerings in the local hospitality facilities.

1 GLAVOTOK FRANCISCAN MONASTERY

The property where today the Franciscan monastery of Saint Mary rises with its adjoining church, was donated in the 15th century to the Franciscans by Prince Ivan Frankopan. This place had for centuries been a center for literacy and education, while the monastery is keeps today a significant collection of glagolitic manuscripts and books.

Ask the religious for short directions where to go, the path through the forest, from the monastery to reach another monument of the high value, 2 the church of Saint Grysogonus, which is as small as a box of matches, and as monumental as the cathedral. It dates back to the period 11th - 12th century. Around the circular base with the dome there is a series of three semi-circular apses with half-domes. The forest in Glavotok is a protected natural heritage as a 3 special forest vegetation reserve.

Pinezići and Skrbčići

x The facilities marked with a number can be found on the map on page 61.

Pinezić is a settlement located close to the sea and already completely discovered by weekenders who have, especially during the 1980s, in great numbers constructed their vacation houses. This is the reason why this place is very intensively lived during the summer. Below the village there is a small pier and a nicely arranged beach.
See:
1 the church of Saint Fuska by the sea, 14th century, where during renovations, part of a Roman wall was discovered, including amphora and graves. It is believed that these are the remains of a Roman Rustic villa or a Roman maritime observatory.
In the neighbouring village of Skrpčići, visit:
2 the church of Saint Francis dating from the 17th century.

Accommodation can be found in private apartments or in camping sites.
